

Employee Leave Policy

Enterprise Knowledge Assistant — Sample Knowledge Base

1. Purpose

This policy explains the types of leave available to employees, the eligibility requirements, the process for requesting leave, and the responsibilities of employees and managers.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all full-time employees. Part-time employees and contractors are covered only where their employment agreement or applicable company policy specifically provides leave benefits.

3. Annual Leave Entitlement

Full-time employees receive 20 days of paid annual leave per calendar year. Annual leave is intended for vacation, personal activities, rest, and other planned absences.

4. Accrual of Annual Leave

Annual leave is accrued throughout the year. Employees who join during the calendar year receive a prorated entitlement based on their joining date.

5. Annual Leave Request

Employees should submit planned annual leave requests through the company leave management system at least 5 working days before the intended start date. Longer periods of leave may require additional notice.

6. Leave Approval

Leave is subject to manager approval and business requirements. Managers should consider staffing needs while making reasonable efforts to accommodate employee leave requests.

7. Sick Leave

Employees may take up to 10 days of paid sick leave per calendar year. Employees should inform their manager as soon as reasonably possible when they are unable to work due to illness.

8. Medical Certificate

A medical certificate may be requested for sickness lasting more than 2 consecutive working days or where required by company procedures.

9. Emergency Leave

Employees may request emergency leave for unexpected personal or family situations. The employee should notify their manager as soon as possible and provide relevant information when requested.

10. Bereavement Leave

Employees may receive up to 5 working days of paid bereavement leave following the death of an immediate family member. Additional unpaid or annual leave may be requested where necessary.

11. Parental Leave

Eligible employees may request parental leave in accordance with company policy and applicable law. Employees should contact HR as early as possible to discuss expected leave dates.

12. Public Holidays

Company-observed public holidays are separate from the annual leave entitlement. Employees required to work on a public holiday should follow the applicable compensation or time-off procedure.

13. Carry Forward

Employees may carry forward up to 5 unused annual leave days into the following calendar year with manager approval. Any amount above the permitted carry-forward limit may expire unless an exception is approved.

14. Leave During Notice Period

Employees serving a notice period should obtain manager and HR approval before taking planned annual leave. The company may consider business requirements when approving leave during the notice period.

15. Unpaid Leave

Employees who require leave beyond their available paid entitlement may request unpaid leave. Approval depends on the circumstances, business requirements, and applicable company rules.

16. Half-Day Leave

Where supported by the leave management system, employees may request leave for a half working day. Half-day requests are subject to the same approval requirements as other planned leave.

17. Working While on Leave

Employees are generally not expected to perform routine work while on approved leave. Managers should avoid assigning non-urgent work during an employee's approved absence.

18. Leave Cancellation

An approved leave request may be cancelled or modified through the leave management system when circumstances change. Employees should inform their manager promptly if they return earlier than planned.

19. Leave Records

Employees are responsible for checking that their leave requests and balances are correctly recorded. HR maintains official leave records and may contact employees regarding discrepancies.

20. Policy Questions

Questions about leave eligibility, balances, or exceptional circumstances should be directed to the HR department. HR may provide guidance based on the employee's contract and applicable company policies.
